

IRIS Cancer Partnership

About IRIS Cancer Partnership

IRIS Cancer Partnership is a collaborative charity, started in 2010, with the aim to actively contribute to 'the advancement of health and the relief of those in need by reason of ill-health, by providing and supporting other organisations in the provision of massage therapy, specially adapted for those diagnosed with cancer'. We provide free massage therapies, across Scotland, by massage therapists trained in techniques specially adapted for people diagnosed with cancer.

Opportunity to join the Board of Iris

We are currently seeking new Board members to play an active role in the development of this small yet dynamic organisation. We aim to increase the diversity of our Board members and are looking for people from Communications, legal, HR, IT, fundraising or financial work backgrounds. We would welcome applications from individuals from any "walks of life" regardless of whether they are retired, working, stay at home individuals or private sector individuals. Public / voluntary sector experience as well as knowledge of the subject matter is not required. You will learn much and in return your contribution will be greatly valued.

Skills & Experience

Experience on management committees is helpful but not essential however a "can do" attitude, enthusiasm and commitment are all essentials. Experience of cancer, whether you personally or someone close to you, and a strong desire to improve the lives of people affected by cancer is required.

Travel Details

Our registered office in Edinburgh is 27 Craigs Avenue, Corstorphine, Edinburgh EH12 8HS, with Board meeting taking place in Edinburgh every second month.
